Bread Making

February 14, 2020

\$12/pp

DID YOU KNOW? Sourdough is an old form of bread leavening. It relies on a mix of wild yeast and lactic acid bacteria that are naturally present in flour, rather than baker's yeast, to leaven the dough. Sourdough bread contains higher levels of folate and antioxidants than other breads. Also, its lower phytate levels allow your body to absorb the nutrients it contains more easily.

This session begins at 10 am, until approximately 12:30, at 45 Browtine Road. This will be a hands-on session using a sour dough starter. Everyone will learn each step of this particular bread-making process. Each participant will take home a container of the sour dough starter, a mini-loaf of rising dough to bake at home, and instructions for 'feeding' your starter. A light lunch is included. You will get messy-so dress accordingly! (*This is NOT gluten free) 10 Members may sign up for this event. Make checks payable to Molly Tufts, PO BOX 160743, Big Sky, MT 59716-074
